

Marc Fairbrother

Web Design

- Web & Mobile UX
- Visual Design
- Accessibility-Oriented

Development

- HTML, CSS, JavaScript
- Git, Docker, NPM
- Test-Driven Development

Management

- Project Organisation
- Sense of Priorities
- Team Enabler

Work Experience

2014–2020: Director of Digital Design and Development at Moving Scope

- Managed the VOD projects Festival Scope, Festival Scope Pro, and ArteKino Festival, from writing specifications to release, and further upgrades.
- Coordinated the work of design and development teams, and trained junior project managers.
- Designed and developed web interfaces and responsive newsletters, and solved front-end issues.
- Researched and supervised the implementation of solutions to improve the video workflow and streaming quality.

2010–2012: Webmaster and Bookseller at The Village Voice Bookshop

- Updated the bookshop's website, researched online retail solutions and created communication materials.

2007–2009: Shop Assistant in the Video Department at Fnac

- Helped customers, managed stock and suppliers, and supervised a team in charge of special offers.

Education

BSC Degree in Web Development

2013–2014 | Université Paris 8

BA Degree in Film Studies

2004–2007 | Université Paris X

Associate's Degree in Bookselling

2009–2010 | Université Paris X

French Baccalaureate (OIB)

2003 | Lycée d'État de Sèvres

Hobbies

I'm passionate about film history and wrote reviews for the Metaluna magazine in 2013. I also worked as an extra on professional film shoots between 2003 and 2006.

I practiced film photography in the early 2000's, including development and printing, and have recently got back into the hobby in its digital form.

Get in Touch

- +33 (0)6 88 24 78 71
- fairbrother.marc@gmail.com
- linkedin.com/in/marcfairbrother
- github.com/MarcFairbrother

Tools

Development

Vue.js, Nuxt.js, Parcel, Jest, SCSS, Twig, jQuery, WordPress

Design

Figma, Photoshop, Premiere Pro, InDesign, Inkscape, Capture One

Soft Skills

Bilingual in English and French

Born in the UK, and having lived in France for over 20 years, I speak and write both languages fluently.

Autonomous and Meticulous

I am well organised and can quickly assess and solve problems.

Hungry to Learn

I always enjoy learning new skills or more about a given topic.

Happy to Help

Used to working with teams and customers, I understand the value of listening to others.